Inside The Numbers

Rivera put Bailey down in the first and sixth rounds. In between knockdowns, Rivera landed 48% of his power punches. Bailey was game, but outside a handful of stiff jabs and hard counters, he wasn't able to put Rivera in any danger. After being pressed by his corner in between rounds to step on the gas pedal, Rivera landed 64% of his power punches in the sixth round, knocked Bailey down, and kept hitting Bailey until the referee stopped the fight at 2:58 of the round.
