Inside The Numbers

Crocker changed up tactics in the rematch, boxing defensively, and not giving Donovan openings to land punches. A counter left hook caught Donovan coming in and dumped him on the canvas for the first time in his career. Donovan bounced back in the following round, and seemed to be winning the fifth round, but Crocker cracked him with another left hook that sent him down in the closing seconds of the round. Donovan seemed to settle into a groove in the second half of the fight, out-landing Crocker 71-44 over rounds 7-12, though Crocker continued to land the harder punches. Crocker failed to reach 10 punches landed in any single round, while Donovan landed at least 10 punches in 7 rounds, and landed 23 in the 12th round, where Crocker landed 7. The judges scored the fight 115-111 for Donovan, and 114-112 and 114-113 for Crocker.
